On motion by Councilman Guess, seconded by Councilman Kinard and Councilwoman Hammond, council approved the minutes from the August 13, 2018 meeting with future corrections should there be any.

Dawn Strickland, CPA from McGregor Company, LLP in Orangeburg, SC, provided the Bamberg County Fiscal Year ending June 30, 2017 audit and reported it to have received an unmodified opinion. This is also the same as previously received, a clean opinion. Ms. Strickland pointed out four material weaknesses and one important deficiency were noted within the audit. The first material weakness was the general accounting principles. It was recommended the county implement policies and procedures that improve the transfer and/or incorporation of the various departments' financial activities into a general ledger system. The second material weakness involved the preparation of financial statements. The third material weakness was concerning lack of control over capital assets and the fourth material weakness was the lack of adequate internal controls over family court collections. The county addressed each weakness that was pointed out in the audit. Ms. Strickland reported the county's only significant deficiency involved the delinquent tax sales funds. It was reported that funds held in the bank account from past delinquent tax sales consisted or several parcels with unresolved balances held or deficits owed. The recommendation was that the matter be investigated and resolved so that only the correct balances required to be held for the five-year period from the public auction sale date are on deposit.

Controller Gina Smith reported that this is the third year in a row the county received a clean audit opinion. Several positive facts were addressed that related to the county's budget. Councilwoman Hammond requested that the council hold a workshop to go through the findings to make sure the county and the staff are prepared for next year. Administrator Preston agreed to schedule a workshop in the future.

Administrator Preston announced congratulated Bamberg County Emergency Services Director, Brittany Barnwell, for being awarded the South Carolina Certified Emergency Managers Certificate. Ms. Barnwell was present and thanked all for their well wishes toward her achievement. She further informed the public of hurricane Florence's location and prediction of land arrival and the possibility of hitting land at a 4 or 5. Also, we were told where shelters will be located and appropriate steps to follow. Administrator Preston said that Chairman Clint Carter will be serving as a member of the SCAC Land Use Committee. Bamberg County officials are waiting for the date to be set for signing of the USDA documents for the purchase of the three approved firetrucks. It was announced that SCAC will take on a new committee item for pursuing the health insurance premium issue as related to PEBA. In the near future, some tours will be given of the old courthouse to invite the public to come in and see the condition of the building and the proposed plan for its preservation. The public works department is working on the mosquito control, including the placement of traps around the county. When citizens make a request for mosquito spaying or road grading and when the employee shows up to render the service and they are not at home, a sign is placed on the door letting them know that the request was completed. Administrator Preston will be scheduling a meeting/interview with Mr. Jeremiah Hammond to discuss the moving project performed of the old courthouse.
